In Police Schools were established from time to time in the several Dts. of t State till in the year 1874 each Dt. h its own School. In 1877 the schools Bangalore, Kolar and Tumkur were abo and a Hd. Qr. School under the charge of an Inspector was established at Bangalore in lieu thereof. During the general reduction of 1880 the posts of Sub-Inspectors in charge of Dt. Schools were abolished and they were therefore left without competent teaching staffs. They, however, continued to exist under Jamedars who were drafted for the purpose from the executive staff. The schools steadily deteriorated under this arrangement until in 1887 they were all abolished ~~except those~~ with exception of those at Shimoga and Chitaldrug. The school at the latter place was abolished in 1890 and that at the former, though not formally abolished, ceased to exist for want of a competent teaching staff.

2 Thus the school established at Bangalore in 1877 solely for the purpose of training the police of the Nundidurg Division (Bangalore, Kolar & Tumkur Dts) came to be the only school for the training of policemen in the State. In 1892 another class was added to this School for the purpose of training recruits for the upper subordinate service in the Police Department. This state of things continued till 1897 when Dt. Police Schools under Inspectors were re-established at the following places:-

1. Bangalore (for the Bangalore, Kolar & Tumkur Dts).
2. Mysore.
3. Hassan.
4. Shimoga.
5. Kadur.
6. Chitaldrug.

3 Consequent on the establishment of these schools the lower classes for the training of constables and dafadars were abolished in the old Hd. Qr. School at Bangalore.

4 Subsequently as dafadars also came to be trained in the Hd. Qr. School, this institution came to be one for the training of officers only while the Dt. schools ~~were~~ solely for ~~for~~ were continued for the purpose of training constables.

In 1904 the services of the Inspection in charge of Dt. Schools were N dispensed with and the schools placed in charge of 1st class Schoolmaster Dafadars.

5 It is apparent from the above that 6 Dt. Police Schools exist at present ~~under Dafadars~~ in addition to the Hd. Qr. Training School at Bangalore.

6 The above is a short history of the Dt. Police Schools and the Hd. Qr. Training School.

7 The I. G. now proposes to abolish the Dt. Schools and to open a Central Police School at Bangalore for the training of constables. In other words he wants two Schools at Bangalore — one the Hd. Qr. Training School for the training of officers (The term of this School is proposed to be ~~increased~~ extended from 8 months to one year and the question is pending decision) and the other the Central Police School for the train-ing of constables.

7 This is not the first time that the question of the abolition of Dt. Schools has come up to Govt. In 1901 the I.G. proposed, on the ground of increased railway communication, that the Dt. Schools may be abolished the Govt after considering the views of the Dy. Comrs (the majority of whom were not in favour of the proposed change) in the matter decided that no change was then called for. The following were the arguments advanced in favour of the Continuance of the Dt. Schools:-

(1) The Dt. officers will take more interest and watch the progress of men. The Supdt. of Police gets to know his men.

(2) Recruits can be more easily enlisted locally in the Talukas as they look upon the Dt. Hd. Qrs. as next door to their homes, as less expensive & more convenient in every way than Bangalore.

(3) Illiterate constables can be put through a course of oral instruction in Police Catechism

(4) The number under training being comparatively few they will be better supervised and receive a far more practical training.

(5) The men, if at Dt. Hd. Qrs., will be always on the spot and available for duty in case of need to fill vacancies or do any special duty in case of emergencies or riots

(6) The disastrous system of "badalies" or the appointing of substitutes to fill vacancies will be put a stop to.

(7) The arguments in favour of the existing system have lost much of their force by the extension of railway communications and a Dt. School under watchful supervision can be made to answer the purpose better than a Central School and this with the minimum of hardship and inconvenience to the poorly paid constab

9 The following are the argu-ments advanced against the present Dt. Schools:-

(1) Instructions imparted by the ill paid and half educated Dafadars are unsatisfactory.

(2) The Indian Police Commis recommend the introduction of the system of Central Schools

(3) The character and metho of training will be uniform. The men will move in a higher sphere & a much larger field with the in-centive for the ~~for~~ growth of a head spirit of emulation and competition They will be subject to stricter disci-pline. There will be no interruption in the course of instruction.

10 The staff proposed for the new Central School is.-

1 Inspector on Rs 40+15
1 Sub Inspector on Rs 30+12
1 Jamadar on Rs 25+8
3 Drill Instructors on Rs 16 each.

11. The total amount including contingencies & house rent allowance comes to Rs 4332 or Rs 244 more than is required for the Dt. Schools. The I.G. states that a small sum of Rs 36 only has been provided for contin-gencies as under G. P. No. J3065-67-Police 184-07-2 dt 16-4-08 ad

15 The additional cost of Rs 244 involved in his present proposal the I. G. proposes to meet from the provision of Rs 2880 made in the budget for pay of substitutes undergoing training in the Ho. Qr. 18 The question of the abolition of the District ~~xxx~~ schools was considered in 1901 and the opinion of D.Cs were invited on the point. The opinions were nearly equally divided: but the Govt passed order continuing the system of District schools. There is no difficulty in dealing with this question from a financial point of view; for the D.G. proposes to restrict himself within the allotted provision, the

Rs 244 for which he points a source. The question has thus to be decided on the merits only. The two most important reasons advanced in 1901 in favour of the existing system were that the ~~recruits~~ constables could be recruited locally & without difficulty and that they formed a useful reserve to fall back upon in times of emergency. While, on the other hand, it was contended that the instruction imparted by the low paid Duffedars who were in charge of the school was of a very unsatisfactory character. Looking at the question broadly, the one thing to be considered in connection with the training of constables is, whether they get a good and efficient training. The question must be decided with reference to this main point. If this view is correct, then it follows that there is much to be said in favour of the proposal of the I.G. of Police. In the first place they will have better instructors Then they will be subjected to greater discipline & control. If to these are added the advantages of being able to move in better surroundings, the D.G's proposal is to be commended. In this connection it may be pointed out that it is not the function of Constables under training to become a sort of reserve force to be useful in times of emergency. As the Police Comn. pointed out, this liability to be taken made use of, as occasion arose was itself a drawback to as far as their training was interrupted. On the whole, the balance of advantages seem to be in favour of the proposal made by the D.G. of Police & the proposal may be sanctioned under Secy)

27] The balance of opinion is decidedly in favour of the D.I.G's proposals. Wethered alone is advocating retention of the District police scheme. His main arguments are:- (1) that the majority of the Constables, being illiterate are not likely to benefit proportionately to the expense involved in sending them to Bangalore and (2) that it is very hard to make them stay at Bangalore for a length of time.

Mr Kamaraj draws attention to the hardship involved in imposing a limit on the number of admissions to the Central School.

(1). Inspectors & Sub Inspectors have to undergo two years' training — one year in the school and the other under experienced Inspectors.

(2) Recruits are trained to make accurate use of their powers of observation.

51) Annual cost of the schools.

The cost of both the schools comes to about Rs 4900 per mensem or Rs 58800 per annum excluding the pay of the Principals and the half pay given to Inspectors and Sub Inspectors while under training.

There is only one school for officers and that at Vellore. There are two schools for constables — one at Vellore and the other at Vijayanagram. It is under contemplation to establish two more of the latter kind — one at Coimbatore and the other at Bellary.

Therefore he proposes that instead of two Inspectors on Rs 70+15 each and one on Rs 60+15 already proposed, one on Rs 150+20, one on Rs 100+20 and one on Rs 70+20 should be appointed. This involves extra additional cost of Rs 153 per mensem.

56) The necessity for an hospital to the School is not clear. In Vellore the students are accommodated in govt. quarters and so live together on the premises which they are not permitted to leave except for about a couple of hours in the evening. In such circumstances an hospital may be desirable. But as regards the proposed school in Bangalore the students, having no govt. quarters, will be obliged to live in various parts of the city and it will be as easy to get any medical aid they require from the Victoria Hospital as from the School ~~Hospital~~ Hospital if one be established.

57) Regd the appointment of a short-hand instructor attention is invited to G.P. No. I 2879-80-Police 209-08-6 dt 31.3.10 directing that selected men may be sent to the Commercial High School for training in that branch.

58) The opinion of the H. Branch has to be taken as the proposals involve an extra recurring expenditure. The information regarding the School at Vellore was called for at the instance of the Inspr General Secbd for orders.

It is not clear if it is necessary that our School should be quite as elaborate as that at Vellore. In Madras they have to train a huge force coming from distant localities and housing - in some cases - large crowds than the Police ~~etc~~ in Mysore. In this view it is a matter for consideration whether it is quite necessary to entertain a whole time officer to be in charge of the School on the 150+20 per mensem.

The salary proposed for the two Inspr of the School appears to be also too high. Law graduates who have joined the Police Dept can be detailed for this duty.

6) The necessity for the following is matter for orders :—

(1) 3 ~~Deputy~~ Drill Inspectors at Rs 150 ea
(2) A Shorthand Inspector on Rs 250-
(3) Allowance Special Reserve Insp's 30
(4) Horse allowance to Rs 75 Inspectors, Sub-inspectors etc.
(5) Ambulance Lecturer on Rs 30/-

6) Regarding a Shorthand writer, it should not be difficult to select about half a dozen men and send them for training in any of the Commercial High Schools at Bangalore. Proficiency in Shorthand is likely to be required only among the Police ~~force~~ in Bangalore & Kolar.

6) A separate Hospital with an Hospital Asst to teach ambulance etc does not seem to be an absolute necessity at present. As at present, an hospital asst? first aid etc may be deputed each year to teach ~~Recruits~~ to each batch of Students as they pass out.

Subs. A medical officer is being deputed each year to teach ambulance.

It is absolutely necessary to reorganize the Police Training school on the lines set forth by the D.I.G. of Police after a personal inspection of the Police Training School at Vellore, which I also visited some time ago. Both the scheme must be framed on rigidly economical lines if it is to have a chance of being considered. If the Dewan approves the D.I.G. will be requested to revise his proposals with this view.

I agree with the first Councillor. The scheme has to be boiled down considerably. There is no reason why an allowance should be granted in addition to grade pay in any case. This office letter No: 5676/550 dated 3-3-1908 recommending the extension of the period of instruction in the Police Training School from 8 months to 1 year.

----ooOoo------

In continuation of the above, I have the honor to submit herewith proposals for the formation of a Central School in Bangalore for the training of constables and to do away with the present District Schools.

2. An institution for the training of Police Officers was in existence in Bangalore from the early seventies. In the year 1892 on the recommendation of Mr. M. P. Madhava Rao, the then Inspector General of Police, another school was opened for the training of men for higher ranks under the designation, "The Head Quarter Police Training School". In the year 1897, 6 Police schools at District Head Quarters, except Tumkur and Kolar were opened with an adequate staff, delegating the responsibility of training men in the Districts to the local authorities. (vide correspondence ending with Government Order No: 7395-6/J. 849 dated 28-12-1897). In the year 1904 after the re-opening of the Provincial Training School which had been closed for over 2 years, it was decided to do away with the District Police School Inspectors (to find funds for the new staff of Prosecuting Inspectors - vide this office letter No: 5058/303 dated 20-2-1904 and Government Order No: 824-34/88 dated 28-9-1904) and place 1st class Duffedars on Rs16/- each in charge of the schools.

3. I cannot at all speak in complimentary terms of the present system as, with such an inferior agency as the ill-paid and half-educated Duffedar on Rs16/- the result cannot be otherwise. The task of imparting instruction to a class of students, the receptive capacity of whose minds is not unoften below the average, is by no means easy.

Present system.

4. No better authority can be cited in support of my opinion than the opinions of the members of the Police Commission who in para 55 of their report deliver themselves as follows:-

Expert opinion.

> " It seems almost a truism to say that "constables should receive adequate training in " their duties before being sent to perform them; "yet the training of constables has been very "defective in most parts of India for several "reasons. One of the most important causes of "inadequate training has been the general failure "to provide the necessary reserve which has result "ed in calling on recruits to perform Police duty "before their training has been completed. Another "cause of imperfect training is the defective "character of the staff employed. This is mainly

"due to the fact that the training has been given "in District Schools. There are some officers who " support these institutions on the ground that the "Superintendent of the District in which the con"stables are to be employed is chiefly interested "in their training. This argument loses weight
"when it is found that the Superintendent's absence
"from Head Quarters during the greater part of the "year necessarily prevents his exercising any real "supervision over the recruits; that he puts a Head
"Constable, or at best a Sub Inspector in charge "of the school, and ordinarily selects him because "he is not very fit for station duty;and that the "temptation to utilise the recruits for emergent
"duty leads to constant interruption of their "training. The great mass of expert opinion is in "favour of Central Schools, each placed at a town
"accessible to several Districts, which would be "grouped round it either as belonging to same "Division, as speaking the language, or for some "other reason of administrative convenience. This "is the plan which the Commission would recommend.
"The school should be large enough to make it worth"while to employ an efficient establishment and
"yet not too large not to allow of careful instruc"tion and effective discipline".

5. With my experience as Superintendent and Deputy Comm
-sioner I bear testimony to every word of these eminent men an say that the proposed scheme has all the advantages of a well organized system of education. The character and method of training will be uniform. The men will move in a higher spher and in a much larger field with the incentive for the growth o a healthy spirit of emulation and competition. They will be subject to stricter discipline. In addition to the direct supervision of the Inspector General when at Head Quarters, there

there will always be his Assistant who, as Principal of the School, can exercise constant and effective control over the working of the teaching staff. Further, there will be no interruption in the course of instruction. And I am sure that the men will not be unwilling to go to the Central School to receive instruction, as every District Head Quarter is within 24 hours' run from Bangalore.

6. The Government of India have approved of the establish-ment of Central Police Schools for the training of constables in para 13 of their resolution on the report of the Commission, and in pursuance thereof the Government of Madras have established 2 schools, one at Vijainagaram and the other at Trichinopoly.

Change of system in British India.

7. The curriculum prescribed by the Police Commission is:-

Curriculum proposed.

1. Drill.
2. Elementary Law and Procedure.
3. Use of the powers of observation.
4. Conduct of the Police towards the public.

To the above I would add:-

5. Shooting and the rudiments of ambulance.

(A catechism on Elementary Law and Procedure is in print. This will place the scope of the training on a uniform basis and serve as a text book for the whole constabulary.)

8. The period of instruction will extend over 6 months at a time , i.e., there will be 2 sessions in a year. This will enable us to draw at the rate of 1 man from each Taluk or Sub Taluk, 4 from each of the Cities of Bangalore, Mysore and from the Kolar Gold Fields and 2 from the Railway Police, making a total of 90 men for a term or 180 men in a year. This number with the 70 men, or, thereabout on an average that receive instruction in the Head Quarter Police Training School, will bring ›ring the total to 250 a year - a number which may be considered ›atisfactory to be equipped for the onerous and arduous duties ›f a Police Officer out of a total of about 6000 in the Province.

9. The men now undergoing training in the Provincial ›chool receive a rent of ₹2/- per mensem during their stay in Bangalore. The same concession can be extended to the ›onstables by raising the present rate of ₹1/- to ₹2/-. The ›xpenditure under this head comes up to 90×2×12= ₹2160/- per ınnum.

House rent to students.

10. To be in charge of and train these 90 men, I propose ›o have 3 teachers for Law and Procedure and the same number of Drill Instructors. According to this arrangement no single ınstructor will have a batch of more than 30 men at a time.-

Additional staff.

..e.,	1 Inspector on ₹	40+15	₹55 per mensem
	1 Sub Inspector ...	30+12	42 "
	1 Jamedar	25+ 8	33 "
	3 Drill Instructors on ₹16/- each.		48 "
			Total ₹178/- or

178×12 = Rs 2136/- per annum.

11. The following comparative statement shows the financial result of my proposal.

Financial result.

I. PRESENT.

Sergeants for drill 3 on ₹16/- and 5 on ₹14/-	₹1416/-
Contingencies for 6 schools at ₹3/- per month.	216/-
Prizes.	120/-
House rent for men attending schools.	800/-
Pay of 8 first class Duffedars on ₹16/- from the Executive Rural Police.	1536/-
Total	₹4088/-

II. PROPOSED.

1 Inspector on ₹ 40+15	₹ 660/-
1 Sub Inspector on ₹ 30+12	504/-
1 Jamedar on ₹ 25+8	396/-
3 Drill Instructors on ₹ 16/- each	576/-
Contingencies.	36/-
House rent for 90 men @ ₹ 2/- per mensem	2160/-
Total	₹ 4332/-
Net increase	₹ 244/-

12. It will be seen that under head "Contingencies" a small sum of ₹ 3/- per mensem or ₹ 36/- per annum is proposed in place of the present grant of ₹ 216/- showing a savings of ₹ 180/- per annum. This is possible under the recent orders of Government (vide proceedings No: 3065-67/184-07-2 dated 6th April 1908) which directs that all articles of stationery required for the schools should be supplied by the Stationery Depôt.

13. The net increase of ₹ 244/- can readily be met out of the existing budget allotment. A sum of ₹ 2880/- is provided in the budget under the head "17 C-III (7)" to meet the pay of the substitutes entertained. As already explained in para 6 of my letter under reference, there is no likelihood of getting 10 Jamedars every year from the Districts. The saving that necessarily accrues thereby may conveniently be utilized to meet the extra expenditure of ₹ 244/-.

14. I would invite attention to para 7 of this office letter referred to and urge strongly the necessity of providing accommodation as speedily as possible.

Accommodation.

Meanwhile I propose locating the additional classes in a portion of the Special Reserve Lines in the same block in which the Police Training School is now held. This arrangement will have the advantage of placing the different batches atches of students in one convenient centre.

15. The Provincial Training School and the Central School or constables will of course be under one and the same officer.

evised staff. The revised staff will consist f 13 lecturers and Instructors as follows:-

3 Inspectors.)
1 Sub Inspector.) i.e., 6 for teaching Laws, Codes, Police Procedure, 2 Jamedars.) and Practical work.

4 Instructors for Drill and Shooting.

1 Instructor for Photo.

1 Instructor for Survey and Drawing.

1 Instructor for Ambulance.

Total 13.

16. As my proposals involve no extra cost and as I wish o start the Central School for constables from 1st July, if ossible, I request the favour of your obtaining the early rders of Government.

17. A proposition statement in the prescribed form s herewith enclosed.

It may also be noted that Drill instructors were appointed for drilling the District Reserve Constables and their drilling the Constables of the District School was in addition to their own proper duty. Hence they cannot be abolished and if abolished it will strongly tell upon the drill and discipline of the District Reserve Force.

Sir,

With reference to your No-

1908, forwarding for opinion papers connected with the abolition of the District Police Schools and the establishment of a central Police School in Bangalore, I have the honour to state that the suggestion is a good one. Since it is under contemplation to increase the pay and status of the Constabulary the change proposed will be very desirable as the training at Bangalore will be quite advantageous to constables who have seen so little of the world and 6 months' life at Bangalore will be quite beneficial to them.

The

The only point for consideration is the distance to Bangalore from some remo Districts such as Chitaldroog, Shimoga an Kadur, but when constables leave their Talu to proceed for training at District Head Quarters, they may as well proceed to Bangalore and draw double the house - rent while there and the usual travelli allowances for the journeys.

2. I have therefore, to state that the proposals of the Inspector Genera of Police based, as they are, on the re commendations of the Police Commis are very sound and desirable.

To

of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,

General and Revenue Departments.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No. J 396-403 Police 221-07-2 of 1st August 1908 calling for my opinion on the proposals submitted by the Inspector General of Police in Mysore for the abolition of the existing District Police Schools and for the Establishment in lieu thereof of a Central Police School for the training of Constables at Bangalore, I have the honour to state that I find myself in full accord with the views in general expressed by the Inspector General of Police in Mysore on the subject.

While I fully endorse the proposal that a Central Police School for Constables should be established at Bangalore, I beg to point out that the limitation imposed as to the number of Constables to to be admitted to the school during each Session works as a great hardship, as when vacancies occur, trained men will naturally have to be preferred thus superseding the claims of unqualified Seniors and Juniors who may have been perfectly willing to go to the Central School, but who owing to the limitation referred to above cannot be so sent. This point has been worked out at some length by the District Superintendent of Police, vide letter No. 190 of 21-8-1908 in original is herein enclosed for your perusal.

Taking the figures given by the Inspector General of Police, it will be seen that it will take a period of 24 years to train all the 6000 in the Province, a period, which, considering the strides which the Police Department is making in the British Provinces, is too long to admit of any tangible results being shewn in the shape of increased efficiency in the Police Force here.

Again

Again in the revised proposal drawn up by the Inspector General, the amount hitherto allotted for prizes has been struck off, but I would propose its retention, as there could be no greater incentive for the growth of a healthy spirit of emulation and competition than the award of prizes to persons who distinguish themselves.

All this of course means so much money, but it will be money well spent, as I should be sorry, if after the abolition of the District Police Schools a well-equipped Central school could not be established, giving scope for a sufficiently large number of Constables to be trained in the best manner possible and imparting instruction in a way so as to secure their utmost efficiency.

Enclosure No.

Sir

With reference to your memo no: 642 dated 14.8.08 forwarding for my opinion copy of the letter from the Secretary to Government with the Inspector General's proposals re the abolition of the district police Schools and for the establishment instead, of a central Training School for Con Stables at Bangalore, I have the honor to State that I agree in general with the views expressed therein. But in one respect the proposal may be slightly modified as follows

Under the present system, as it only a very limited number of men who can be sent to the Police

Training School, it being only by from a large district like mpore, a microscopic minority alone get a chance of qualifying themselves therein, with the result that with e small number of vacancies each year and the ever increasing number of men passed out of the School, the latter have always managed to super-ede men of experience and long standing in the department leading this to general discontent in e force. The constant supercession of the men who though quite capable of passing the prescribed est in the Training School, but who were prevented rom receiving the benefit of training their for no fault
; theirs, seems to be hardly fair

The existing district police Schools were in a way rectifying this evil, in as much as those who could ot succeed in going to the Training School could be rafted and given training in the district Schools nd their claims considered in disposing of vacancies s at present, no less than double the number proposed in the proposal under reference to be rawn from the ranks, are thus being drafted and rained. Now if this number is cut down to half as er proposals under reference, the hardship detailed above will increase all the more, and hose who for no fault of theirs will be prevented from going to the School, will continue to suffer.

Unless therefore a larger number than now proposed can be drafted to the new central School or definite provision is made to safeguard the interests of those that do not succeed in getting themselves sent to the Training School, on account of the limitation proposed, the proposal under reference, may not, it is feared, be as advantageous over the present System as it may appear to be.

Sir,

Adverting to your letter No. J.396-403/Pol.221-07-2 dated the 1st August 1908, forwarding for my opinion copy of letter No.7705/760 dated the 15th June 1908 from the Inspector General of Police in Mysore, anent Establishment of a Central Police School for the training of Constables at Bangalore, I have the honor to state that from my experience both as a Police Officer and a Deputy Commissioner, I am of opinion that the training the Constables now receive at the District Police School is anything but satisfactory to render them fit for the responsible duties expected of them, and that the establishment of a Central School at Bangalore, as suggested by the Inspector General of Police and the training therein of the men in the various branches as proposed by the said Officer under better and more qualified Instructors and closer discipline, would certainly improve the ~~xxxx~~ efficiency and tone of the whole Force, the men also not being put to any inconvenience or hardship by their being drafted temporarily to Bangalore, especially now that all the Districts are so connected by Railways with the Head Quarters. I therefore heartily welcome the proposal of

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.J.396-403/Police. 221 ~~226~~-07-2 dated the 1st August 1908, calling for the opinion in re the abolition of the existing District Police School and opening a Central Police School for the training of constables at Bangalore, I have the honor to state that I quite concur in the view held by the Inspector General of Police that there should be one Central Police School for the whole Province and it should be located at Bangalore. The present system of having as many Police Training Schools as there are District Head Quarters, is an anomaly and should be discontinued. The results acheived by the District Schools are very meagre and for want of adequate teaching staff, the training given in these Schools is not all that could be desired. A Central Police School manned by a Training Staff of upto date knowledge and methods is sure to turn out a well qualified and efficient set of constables for the Service.

Sir,

Adverting to your letter No: J. 396-403 Police 221-07-2 dated 1st August 1908 forwarding for my opinion a copy of letter No: 7705-760 dated 15th June 1908 addressed to you by the Inspector General of Police submitting proposals for the information of a Central School

School in Bangalore for the training of Constables and abolition of the present district police Schools, I have the honour to state that after duly considering all the advantages of a Central police School at Bangalore for instruction of Constables also, as set forth in the Inspector General's letter, I am of opinion that it would not be desirable to abolish the District Schools or to discontinue the instruction of Constables at the Head Quarters of Districts until a much better class of men can be attracted for enlistment as police Constables. At present a large majority of Constables in this District are far from intelligent men, among whom most are illiterate. It would be a waste of travelling expenses and extra house-rent to send such constables to Bangalore for instruction — particularly the latter if the period of instruction be extended to one year in the case of Constables also. Unintelligent and illiterate men would not proportionately benefit by the more expensive Course of instruction to make it worth while to send them to the Central police School at Bangalore.

2. For instruction of such Constables in their General duties, as also in Drill and discipline, it would would be necessary to maintain the existing District police Schools. Moreover, these Schools lessen to a considerable extent the hardship resulting in Constables (who draw very low pay) having to live in Bangalore at a great distance from their families for a long period. Even if they be given leave to go and see their families occasionally, or in the event of sudden illness of themselves or their families, presumably they would have to defray the cost of long journeys when going and returning.

3. Having had an opportunity of meeting — Mr. D. Devaraj Urs, Inspector General of police who arrived at Hassan on the 9th instant on inspection duty, I discussed this subject with him yesterday.

4. I would suggest that only such constables who are thoroughly literate and fairly intelligent, and who would derive proportionate benefit from the expn cost of instructing them, be selected for the long Course of training in the Central police School in Bangalore, and that those who are illiterate or not sufficiently literate and intelligent may, as at present, be trained in the district police Schools.

SIR,

With reference to your No.J.4052/ Police.21-07-11 dated the 20th June 1909 re the establishment of a central school at Bangalore for the training of constables, I have the honor to submit herewith revised proposals for the formation of the same and to state that there is some difference between these proposals and those submitted before this for the following reasons:-

1. When the first proposals were submitte the investigation centre scheme had not been introduced. On its introduction, the sergeants who had been shown as having been on the present scale of the District Schools have been absorbed. Hence a considerable difference in the figures.

2. Again, in the former proposals, the Police Training School at Bangalore for training Inspectors and Jamedars was shown different from the proposed central school for constables. In the present proposals the two institutions have been amalgamated into one for purposes of centralising the work of supervision and efficient con-total expenditure of Rs.10,800/- per annum against Rs.7,388/- the cost of Head Quarter Police Training School at Bangalore. The extra expenditure of Rs.3,412 is proposed to be met as follows:-

5. At present there has been an allotment of Rs. 600/- for house rent for men undergoing training in the several District Schools which are proposed to be abolished and also Rs.120/- and Rs.198/- for distribution of prizes and for contingencies respectively in the said schools. This gives a savings of Rs.1,118/-(17 Police-(3)-District Police 8-District Police Schools).

6. As the District Schools which are generally in charge of a Dafedar, are going to be abolished, I propose reducing the strength of the District Reserve by one 1st class Dafedar in each District and by one 2nd class Daffedar in the French Rocks Circle. Further I propose the strength of the District Reserve of the Bangalore District to be reduced by one 1st grade Jamedar as there now 2 first grade and 2 second grade Jamedars in it. This gives a further savings of Rs.2,100/-. A saving of Rs.3,218/- is thus available to meet the extra expenditure of Rs.3,412/- leaving Rs.194/- per annum or Rs.16-2-8 per mensem to be provided for.

7. According to these proposals the present strength of the Head Quarter Police Training School will have to be strengthened by an Inspector on Rs.40/-, a Sub-Inspector on Rs.30/- and a Jamedar on Rs.25/-. Also we have 3 Drill ~~Instructors~~ Inspectors in place of 3 Sergeant. This increase, I need not say, is modest enough.

8. The reasons for the desirability of establishing a central school, I have already explained sufficiently in my letter No.7705/760 dated the 19th June 1908 and I do not intend to go into them again here.

enclosed.

I request that you will be so good as to obtain early sanction of Government on the subject.

I have the honor to be,

sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Inspector-General of Police.

SIR,

With reference to your docket No. J.2453/Police.22-07-13 dated the 25th February 1911 calling for certain particulars about the Vellore Police Training School, I have the honor to state that there are two Police Training Schools at Vellore viz, one called the Provincial Training School for the training of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors and the other called Recruits' School for the training of constables. The former School is under the management of a District Superintendent of Police as its Principal and the latter under an European Assistant Superintendent of Police.

2. The arrangement in force in both the Schools is that recommended by the Police Commission. Special attention is paid to the training of Sub-Inspectors it being entrusted to an agency much superior in quality. The Principal is a carefully selected Superintendent of Police the staff under him consisting of best material available in the Police Department. Adequate instruction is provided not only in criminal law, the Law of Evidence and the Police Procedure and Practice but also in practical work. Likewise the training of recruits is entrusted to competent hands. The Central Training School for Constables is specially recommended in condemnation of those in the Districts whose foremost imperfectness being the defective character of the staff employed to train the constables. Schools are further intended to give an uninterrupted training to the constable which was not the case in the District schools where the temptation to utilize the services of the recruits for emergent duty generally caused constant interruption resulting in a thoroughly imperfect training. All these defects are completely avoided in the present arrangements adopted in the Central Schools. Sub-Inspectors and recruits are accommodated in Government buildings called the Hyder Mahal and Tippu Mahal.Strict discipline is maintained. The students remain in the premises all day and night whether it be class hours or not. Between 7-30 and 9 in the evening they have permission to leave the premises. To go out at any other time they should obtain the permission of the Principal. Every one should be present at the roll call time viz, 9-30 P.M. after which the gates of the premises will be closed and guarded. Vide paras 55 and 59 of the Police Commission Report laying down the arrangement, which is literally carried out in the schools at Vellore.

3. The establishment employed in the two schools and the cost thereof are given below:-

4. As regards the system of instruction in the officers school the course is one year followed by another year's practical training under experienced Inspectors. For purposes purposes of lectures in Law each lecturer is allotted 20 Sub-Inspectors. The following subjects are taught:-

1. The Indian Penal Code.
2. The Criminal Procedure Code.
3. The Indian Evidence Act.
4. Special and Local Laws.
5. Gribble's Medical jurisprudenc
6. Police Orders.
7. Ambulance.
8. Short-hand
9. Drill and shooting.
10. Equitation.

The hours of Instruction are as follows:-

MORNING.

6-15 to 7-45	Drill and Riding.
8-15 to 11-15	Lectures in Law.

EVENING.

1-30 to 4-30.	Drawing and Short-hand
5 to 6	Sports or Drill to such of them as do not take part in sports.

In the Recruit School the course is only for six months. Each teacher who is a Sub-Inspector is given 40 constables. A catechism on elementary Law and Procedure has been prepared and published under the authority of Government Lessons are taught from the said book of catechism. If the Recruit is come from the Railway Police he is given in addition lessons from the Railway catechism. They are taught elementary principles of Arithmetic the names of the months of the year, lenear measurements &c. They are made acquainted with the records maintained in a Police station such as their names and what they are about.

Under use of power of observation recommended by the Police Commission they are taught to give approximately the number of persons in a crowd, the time of the day by the position of the sun &c.

drilled both morning and evening

morning 6-15 to 7-45

evening 6 to 7-30

From 8-30 A.M. to 11-30 A.M. they are taught other lessons. If a constable is backward in learning he is given extra lessons in the afternoon. The Instructors work only 5 days in a week.

5 For the whole Presidency there is only one school for the teaching of Inspectors and Sub-Inspecto viz the one at Vellore. For constables there is one at Vellore and another at Vijianagaram. The Governmen of Madras have it in view to open two more- one at Coimbatore and another at Bellary.

6 When I visited Vellore during the third week of March 1911, I saw both the schools and the above particulars were furnished to me by the Principal of th Provincial Training School, Mr. G.H. Bernays.

7. I beg to state for the information of Government that the two schools at Vellore are maintained in a big state of efficiency. The Principals are full time officers devoting their undivided attention to the management of the schools. The staff which is employed to teach law and other subjects is of a superior order. Without a staff consisting of officers specially selected for the work and highly paid, it is not possible to expect the results to be very satisfactory.

8. I beg to avail myself of this opportunity to propose some slight modifications to the scheme about the establishment of the Central Police School at Bangalore. My Office Assistant is at present the Principal of the Provincial Training School. Since he h in addition to the office work the charge of the Provincial Special Reserve and the Railway Police, Bangalore-Nanjangud Section, he can hardly find time to pay any great attention to the minute details of the working of the school. It is therefore highly necessary to provide for the school a Head Master who is of the grade of the 1st or 2nd class Inspector. In the proposals submitted to Government with this office No. 339/185 dated 6-10. two Inspectors on Rs.70/-, one on Rs.40/- were provided. Regard being had to the quality of the work, I would not have for the schools any Inspector of a lesser grade than Rs.70/-. I would therefore recommend an Inspector on Rs.150+20 for the Head ~~Quarters~~ Master's place and two other Inspectors as Assistant lecturers, one on Rs.100+20 and the other on Rs.70+20.

Instruction in drill is now under the supervision of the Special Reserve Inspector, on whom therefore devolves heavier work and responsibility I therefore propose that an allowance of Rs.30/- per mensem be given to him under the Central School scheme.

I beg to urge the necessity of attaching a Hospital to the Central School in charge of a Sub Assistant Surgeon or a Senior Hospital Assistant. He will in addition be Ambulance Instructor to the Inspectors and Constabulary classes and also teach medical jurisprudence to the Inspectors' class. For the latter additional duty he may be given a monthly allowance of Rs.30/-

I have in my letter No.3332/335 dated 25th January 1910 brought to the notice of Government the necessity of introducing short-hand writing. Great attention is paid to this instruction in the Provincial school at Vellore. I think it is high time that instruction in short-hand is given to Inspectors and Jamedars. I recommend the entertainment of an Instructor on Rs.25/- per mensem.

The clerical work in the school has increased of late which is being attended to by the teaching teaching staff itself. This has interfered with the teaching work. I therefore propose that a clerk on Rs.15/- per mensem may be sanctioned.

To keep the school premises clean and tidy, I propose the entertainment of a sweeper and a scavenge each on Rs.7/- a month. This is highly essential fro a sanitary point of view also.

9. The aforesaid modifications are in my opinion very necessary. I herewith submit a statement showin the difference between the proposal already sent to Government and the one as now modified. On account o these modifications the monthly cost of the school is increased from Rs.900/- to 1149/- a month i.e., an increase of Rs.249/- a month. In other words the increase over the existing cost on account of the Provincial Training School at Bangalore and the District schools is Rs.265/- a month or Rs.3180/- a year I beg to submit that a better system of instruction b an efficient staff to the Constabulary is one of urge need in the Police Force. The efficiency of the Force as a whole more or less depends upon the training give to the officers and men. The method of training the constables in the District schools has been defective owing to the inferior kind of staff employed. This system is emphatically condemned by the Indian Police Commission in accordance with whose recommendations th existing Provincial Training school and the recruits school at Vellore are run.

10. The cost of the schools at Vellore comes to about Rs.4700/- a month exclusive of the pay of the tw Principals and the half pay given to the Inspectors an Sub-Inspectors undergoing training. The cost of the schools here, all items taken into consideration is Rs.1149/- a month as now proposed.

11. In addition to the two schools at Vellore, the adras Government has opened a Recruits' school at ijianagaram and is about to open two more such schools t Bellary and Coimbatore.

12. Regard being had to the efficiency which is the bject of the proposed scheme I venture to submit that he Government will be pleased to sanction the extra xpenditure.

I have the honor to be,

sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Inspector-General of Police.

CENTRAL POLICE SCHOOL.

Sir,

With reference to the correspondence ending with your letter no 6454-615 dated the 21st April 1911 regarding the establishment of a Lines on the model of the Vellore Training School Police School at Bangalore, I am directed to state that the proposals submitted by you are to be sanctioned on a ~~provisional~~ liberal scale and will bear some should be granted in addition to the teaching staff to pass pay in any case. The

The existing arrangement
